Overview

It has been touted as the single greatest Netball match of all time, the gold medal match at the 2010 XIX Commonwealth Games in Delhi, India.

An epic extended extra-time 66-64 win over arch rivals Australia in a match lasting oneand-a-half hours was a history-making moment for the Silver Ferns, who successfully defended a major title for the first time following their gold-medal-winning exploits in Melbourne four years earlier. The gripping final produced all the drama, intensity and athletic endeavour expected when the sport's two powerhouses went head-to-head.

The Silver Ferns sparked up a gear to gain the momentum in an impressive second half but could not stop a late-charging Australia from clawing their way back and leaving the score all tied up at 47-all at the end of regular time.

Fifteen minutes of extra time could still not separate the two teams who frantically put everything on the line, each gaining little momentum swings but unable to deliver the knockout blow. The end of extra time resulted in a 57-all stalemate as the game moved into extended extra-time where it carried on until one team had achieved the necessary two-goal buffer to secure the win.

Again, it was close, tight and unpredictable as player's battled cramp, exhaustion and some hair-raising moments before the Silver Ferns eventually closed the game out after converting a vital turnover. Playing the game of her life, goal attack Maria Tutaia was all class. Retaining her poise throughout, the elegant shooter calmly put the ball through the hoop from all points of the circle in a match-winning effort.

Calculated substitutions and strong mental resolve, where everything was put on the line, were pivotal in helping the Silver Ferns pull off a thriller which was the culmination of months of preparation.

It proved an extra-special 10 days for Irene van Dyk during which she achieved two significant milestones to add to an already glittering career. The ever-smiling sharp shooter was selected as the New Zealand team flag-bearer for the Games' opening ceremony and during the tournament she surpassed Lesley Rumball's 110 test record to become the most capped Silver Fern.

STATISTICS DIDYOUKNOW?

NZ assistant coach Vicki Wilson was captain of the first ever team (Australia) to win a Netball gold medal at a Commonwealth Games (Kuala Lumpar, 1998).

Only 31 New Zealand Netballers have ever played for New Zealand at a Commonwealth Games and if Shannon Francois, Jodi Brown, Ellen Halpenny and Cathrine Latu take the court in Glasgow, that total will go up to 35.

The extended extra-time 66-64 win by New Zealand over Australia in the gold medal match in Delhi in 2010 was the longest ever official match at 84 minutes in duration.

The NZ team have a total of 623 New Zealand test caps between them with Ellen Halpenny the only debutant in the team.

Boxing, artistic gymnastics and rhythmic gymnastics will be hosted in the SSE Hydro, before Netball moves across to the venue for the Finals. The Netball Pool Matches will be played at the SECC (Scottish Exhibition Conference Centre).

Irene van Dyk was just the third female New Zealand flagbearer at a Commonwealth Games and the first for Netball in Delhi, 2010. Previously, former rower Stephanie Foster carried the flag at the 1986 Edinburgh Games and cyclist Sarah Ulmer was selected for the Manchester Games in 2002.

New Zealand will start their Netball campaign on Friday July 25 with the Finals matches on the very last day of competition on August 3rd.

This will be New Zealand's fifth appearance at the Commonwealth Games since it became a Medal sport for the first time in Kuala Lumpur in 1998. New Zealand and Australia played a demonstration match at the 1990 Commonwealth Games in Auckland.

Laura Langman has 100 test caps for the Ferns and has not missed a test match for New Zealand in nine years.

Eight players return from the 2010 Delhi Commonwealth Games team; Casey Kopua, Maria Tutaia, Laura Langman, Liana Leota, Anna Harrison, Joline Henry, Leana de Bruin & Katrina Grant.

STATISTICS DIDYOUKNOW?

Waimarama Taumaunu will become the 3rd Silver Ferns coach to lead the side at a Commonwealth Games. Yvonne Willering led the side in 1998 in Kuala Lumpur and Ruth Aitken led the other three in 2002 in Manchester, 2006 in Melbourne and 2010 in Delhi.

Netball is one of 17 sports to be contested at the 2014 Glasgow Commonwealth Games and over the 11 days of competition, Netball will be played every day. NZ coach Waimarama Taumaunu amassed 68 test caps in her Netball career while assistant coach Vicki Wilson retired from playing for Australia with 104 test caps to her name.

Casey Kopua's first ever match against Australia was in the gold medal match at the 2006 Commonwealth Games in Melbourne when she was brought on in the second half. The NZ team went on to win the gold medal.
